

IMPERIAL COUNTY RACE FOR JUDGESHIP CLOSE

Official Tabulation Deemed Needed to Determine if Run-off Election Necessary

EL CENTRO, Sept. 2. (Exclusive)—Interest is still keen in the final official result of Tuesday's hard-fought election here, for the reason that it will require the official tabulation of votes by the County Supervisors to determine whether there will be a four-cornered run-off for the office of Superior Judge at the November election.

On the race of the returns Judge Franklin J. Cole has been elected, with a contest in the fall to determine whether the second place to be filled will go to Albert C. Finney or John S. Laver. A fifth candidate, John Simpson, has been eliminated. Unofficial figures now available in this contest represent the vote of fifty-five of the fifty-seven precincts of the county. The two unreported voting districts are small ones, one with a registration of fifteen and the other of seventeen.

CONTROL AT ISSUE
In this contest as in all the other local disputes in this country the real question at issue has been that of the domination of local politics by Mark Rose, a director of the irrigation district, and his supporters. As the returns now stand Rose has been victorious in all of the contests except that for Assemblyman and United States Senator.

In the contest for District Attorney, Ernest E. Utley, who has been one of Mark Rose's strongest opponents, has been beaten by Elmer Heald, who it is expected will allow court actions now pending against the directors of the irrigation district to go unopposed.

Charles M. Applehill, who until two years ago was Sheriff of Imperial county, failed in his attempt to stage a comeback and was defeated by Charles L. Gillett, who was standing for re-election. John Mason was a poor third in the race, polling but 400 votes.

KRIM ON FINAL LAP OF VOYAGE

Ship Departs With Chief to Exile Island

French Express Sympathy for Pretender

Riffian Says He Will Pursue Useful Purpose

MARSEILLES, Sept. 2. (AP)—Abd-el-Krim, the fallen pretender to the throne of Morocco, started on the final lap of his long journey into exile this afternoon. The French mail ship Admiral Pierre sailed away from the French coast. The Riffian chieftain could be seen through glasses standing on the deck surrounded by his children gazing at the retreating land. His expression seemed to mean that he would have liked to have seen more of this country, so noted for its delights and pleasures, than what he could see simply skirting the coast on his way to a remote and mysterious land. The chieftain and his relatives and attendants, some twenty-four in all, are to be exiled on the Isle of Reunion in the Indian Ocean. The feeling in Marseille regarding the defeated leader of the Riffian rebels seems to be more sympathetic than elsewhere. The French government held its captive may account in part for the change of feeling. In the past the Riffian leader had been treated as a traitor and the French had been forgiven, "not Krim".

The three children of the Moroccan leader were plainly to be seen in the last two days' playing on Friuli Island, with the same lack of result. The French government held its captive may account in part for the change of feeling. In the past the Riffian leader had been treated as a traitor and the French had been forgiven, "not Krim".

There was some effort made today by reporters and photographers to break the line of guard about Friuli Island, with the same lack of result. The French government held its captive may account in part for the change of feeling. In the past the Riffian leader had been treated as a traitor and the French had been forgiven, "not Krim".

At the last moment, Abd-el-Krim left with the official interpreter this message for the public:

"I intend to consecrate the long hours of leisure that I will have out yonder to useful occupations and hope by my attitude to conquer the esteem of France."

RAIN DELUGE MOVING EAST

Ohio and Indiana in Grip of Storm Which Drives Thousands to Safety of Higher Land

CHICAGO, Sept. 2. (Exclusive)—Rainstorms which paralyzed traffic and industry in Iowa and Central Illinois moved eastward today, the four-inch rainfall of Tuesday and Wednesday being paralleled in Ohio and Indiana Wednesday night and today, with no indication tonight that the storm clouds had yet vented their full force. In both States streams were out of their banks, interurban and railroad traffic hindered, communication impaired, farm crops submerged, and residents of lowlands driven to higher ground.

Indiana's storm centered about Frankfort and Kokomo. Firemen of Cambridge City, Ind., dynamited a section of a dam to release waters which were backing up on farm lands. Richmond, Ind., firemen rescued residents of lowlands whose homes were surrounded by water. Ohio's heaviest rainfall, 4.66 inches, was reported from Akron.

Los Angeles Company Issues Data for Half Year

Decrease in Net from 1925 Reported at $24,267

Passenger Fares Show Gain in Seven Months' Period

Net railway operating income of the Los Angeles Railway Company for the six months ended June 30, last, after depreciation and taxes, amounted to $790,777.08, as compared with $824,044.57 in the corresponding period of 1925, a decrease of $33,267.49, according to a report issued yesterday by officials of the company.

Total operating revenues for the six months of the current year, including both passenger and freight and express revenues, amounted to $8,053,400.21, a slight decrease from the aggregate of $8,117,518.73 in the corresponding period of last year. In the first half of this year passenger revenue totaled $5,998,108.74, as against $6,048,194.70 in the first half of 1925. Net railway operating revenue for the six months of this year, before depreciation and taxes, amounted to $1,182,277.08, as compared with $1,215,044.57 in the same period of 1925. Surplus of the company increased from $5,003,730.51 on June 30, 1925, to $5,028,730.51 on June 30, last.

An improvement in business activity in 1925, according to the company, was a further sharp rise in Italian fare to 130¢. It is understood that the company in the first seven months of this year as compared with the same period of 1925. Total passengers served by street cars and buses of the Los Angeles Railway Company, not including passengers served by buses operated jointly with the Pacific Electric, in the seven months of this year amounted to 200,953,809, an increase of 2,150,692 over the total of 198,803,117 in the corresponding seven months of 1925.

An interesting feature in this connection is the large increase in business handled by buses of the company. In the first seven months 849,136 passengers were carried in buses, as compared with 822,822 in the same period of 1925, an increase of 27,314, or more than 3 percent.

Passenger fares served by street cars decreased 72¢.13 in the seven months of this year, from 198,074.13 in the same period of 1925.

The Los Angeles Railway Company is now operating an average of approximately 815 street cars daily, as compared with approximately 780 daily a year ago. In July sixty-two buses were operated jointly with the Pacific Electric, in the seven months of this year as compared with 58 in the same period of 1925.

MARKET IGNORES OIL DATA

Cochran or Baker Statement Needed to Stimulate Rise in Price; Merger Fires Banked

What the oil market needs is a Thomas C. Cochran or a George F. Baker. On his departure for Europe, Cochran spoke so kindly of General Motors that the stock market apparently felt obliged to justify his expectations, and ran the price up to unprecedented levels. Baker, head of the First National Bank of New York, retorted by the values in New York Central. Immediately the stock market courted him by all the seasonal rails. Somebody, either leaving for or returning from Europe, ought to feel the same way about the oils. They urgently need some kind of a stimulant. In the absence of anything better, the professional operators seized upon the recapitalization of the Texas Company as a possible bullish argument, and, strangely enough, met with some response. Whether the movement will continue without the more powerful impulse is a question of serious doubt.

AFRAID OF STATISTICS

For some time the market activity in the oil has been predicted almost entirely on merger rumors and possibilities. The public is not disposed to absorb the smaller company story again demonstrated. The explanation by one of the Texas Company officers serves, however, to reveal the true situation in the industry as far as merger deals are concerned.

As this statement was reported in the news dispatches, the Texas Company is not interested in any other large companies, but is steadily reaching out to absorb the smaller companies. The policy, it was explained, is to build by degrees, rather than to make a single stroke, as one of the large competitors of Texas have done. Logical reasons are advanced for this policy. It is only profitable to engineer big merger deals like Standard and Pacific Oil, and the latter is a single stroke, as one of the large competitors of Texas have done. Logical reasons are advanced for this policy. It is only profitable to engineer big merger deals like Standard and Pacific Oil, and the latter is a single stroke, as one of the large competitors of Texas have done.

French firms were also firm and sterling was steady.

NEW DURANT MOTOR DEAL IN PROSPECT

Locomotive, Flint and Star Held Nucleus of New Combination

DETROIT (Mich.) Sept. 2. (Exclusive)—The subject of major interest in automobile circles just at present is a merger rumor which is believed logical and timely by those high up in the industry as a means of meeting the keenest competition ever experienced by automobile manufacturers.

In the background observers believe that a merger of the Locomobile, Flint and Star, which have been under consideration for some time, is being considered. The merger, if finally developed, would be an equaling in size that of General Motors Corporation, will give certain advantages to the company of motor cars and trucks.

The merger rumor in well-informed circles is backed by sufficient evidence to lead to a belief that there may be further developments and announcement before the end of the year.

COAL CONSUMPTION IN JULY INCREASES

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (P)—Coal consumption in the United States for July totaled 37,424,000 tons, an increase over June of 1,883,000 tons, it was reported by the National Association of Purchasing Agents. Sustained activity in most lines of industry is held responsible for the enlarged fuel demand. Bituminous production gained in July, the output for the month being 43,472,000 tons.

OUTLOOK FOR RAILS IN CANADA BRIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (P)—Large increases in both gross and net earnings of Canadian railroads in the first seven months of 1926, is considered an indication that results for 1926 of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National systems will surpass last year. The Canadian Pacific reported a net income of $11,500,000 for the first seven months of 1926, as against $10,500,000 for the same period of 1925.

MANY NEW BUSINESSES CHARTERED IN AUGUST

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (P)—There were 652 new enterprises, each with a capitalization of $100,000 or more, chartered during August, according to figures compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, which represent an increase over the preceding month when capitalization totaled $454,865,100, but show a decrease from the corresponding month a year ago, which had a total of $672,734,000. Textile, oil and gas firms showed the greatest increase.

TRANSFER TAX GAINS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (P)—New York State received a larger stock transfer tax in August than in either the preceding month or August last year, $1,313,987, against $1,174,397 in July and $1,161,029 in August, 1925.

RUBBER ADVANCE FORECAST

Analysis of Market Situation in National City Bank Bulletin Shows Conditions Favor Upturn

Copyright, 1924, by New York Evening Post, Inc.
NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (Exclusive)—A reversal of the trend in crude rubber prices apparently is at hand. After a steady decline for almost a year a steadier tone has developed that holds possibilities of an advance that may continue for several years. The improvement is accounted for in a measure by the recent recovery in the tire trade which has been brought about by curtailed production. Consumers of crude rubber have displayed more interest in the market recently on the theory that with a curtailment of output imminent, prices are likely to point upward and stocks of rubber can be bought cheaper now than later.

As a result of the curtailment of crude rubber in the three months beginning November 1, it is anticipated by the National City Bank, which in its current bulletin says if the price for the current quarter averages less than 21 pence in London, the equivalent of 42 cents a pound here, a reversal in output will follow under the provisions of the Stevenson Act. Because of the unsatisfactory condition of the tire industry in the first half of this year, purchases of crude rubber by manufacturers fell off and supplies accumulated in London, resulting in a gradual decline in prices. Conditions have been reversed, however, and world shipments probably will increase sharply with the possibility of exceeding last year's production in the second half of 1926.

World shipments of rubber during the first six months of the year reached 291,000 tons and for the entire year are expected to exceed 600,000 tons or 100,000 tons more than last year. In the face of this increased production, American consumption, which is the largest factor on the demand side, fell during the first six months 12,000 tons below a year ago.

Reflection of this excess of production over consumption is seen in a rise of rubber stocks in London since the beginning of the year from 6000 to 30,000 tons.

While for the current year consumption may show little or no increase over 1925, the growth of the automobile industry assures an early increase in demand for rubber. As against this growth of consumption there has been relatively little new production in the recent years prior to 1925.

"With the continuance of rubber consumption at anything like the rate of increase estimated, it is predicted by many good authorities that we may see the recurrence of another similar situation of that which culminated in the rise of prices from around 30 cents a pound in the middle of 1924, to $1.20 by the summer of 1925."

NEW YORK GOLD BOND ISSUE OUT

Offering of $28,475,000 for State Improvement Placed on Market

An issue of $28,475,000 of State of New York 4 per cent serial gold bonds, due annually September 1927 to 1976, inclusive, will be offered today by a banking group headed by Blair & Co., Inc., and including Hallgarten & Co., The New York Trust Company, Lehman Brothers, Goldman, Sachs & Co., W. A. Harriman & Co., Inc., Empire Trust Company, the Marine Trust Company of Buffalo and Manufacturers Trust Company at prices to yield from 3.50 per cent to 3.80 per cent, according to maturity.

The bonds are being issued for the purpose of financing the construction of grade crossings and for a State park system. The bonds are legal investments for trust funds in New York and for savings banks in New York, Massachusetts, California and other States.

The financial statement of the State of New York as officially reported July 1, last, shows assessed valuation of taxable property of $20,755,221,089. The funded debt of the State, including this issue, amounts to $34,098,000. After deducting sinking funds of $94,599,357, the net debt of the State is $28,048,642, which represents about 1.2 per cent of the total valuation of property subject to taxation for State purposes.

This issue of bonds was awarded to the Blair group against a highly competitive field on a bid of $101.925.

TREND ON STOCK MARKET UNEVEN

Drift Laid to Usual Evening Up for Holiday

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (P)—Movements in today's stock market were irregular and inconclusive, representing largely the readjustment of speculative accounts incident to the approach of an extended market holiday. Although about a score of big bids up to new high levels were the day, net losses exceeded gains at the close, due chiefly to unusually large volume of sales in the last hour.

Some uneasiness developed over the season on a revival of the "margin" theory, but this was quickly allayed by the Federal Reserve Bank, particularly Philadelphia and Boston, which shortly indicated their readiness to buy large sums of money upon the call money market at the normal rate of 4-1/2 per cent as against 3 yesterday, and the longer maturities were shaded from 1/8 to 1/4 per cent in the time money market. New York Federal Reserve Bank discount rate was unchanged at 6 per cent.

Considerable attention was attracted by the interview given by George F. Baker, veteran banker, on his return from Europe. His statement that he was glad the public was getting "to recognize the true value of New York Central" induced buying in that stock, which went up 3 points to 144, the highest since 1909. His intimation that stock dividends would be paid in the form of stock, which was the policy of the United States Steel Corporation, held responsible for the liquidation of that issue, which closed 1/8 lower at 140 3/8.

Operators working for higher derivatives encountered some resistance.

GRAND JURORS HIT BACK AFTER SUMMARY OUSTING

Keetch Action in Dismissing Them for "Leak" and "Discord" Held by Nine to be Unjust

Nine members of the expired 1926 grand jury last evening, following a secret conference in a downtown office building, hit back at Superior Judge Keetch, their presiding officer, for his action in summarily dismissing them. They declared his action was as unwarranted as it was unexpected. Members of the group are expected to confer again soon to discuss the issuance of a signed statement expressing in detail their views on an attitude toward the ouster proceedings. Several hinted they believed political activity played a part in their dismissal.

Statement of Judge Made to Grand Jurors

The following is the statement in full of Superior Judge Keetch which was read to members of the grand jury yesterday when they were ousted by their presiding officer: Ladies and gentlemen of the grand jury: Just before you took your vacation recess I felt impelled to express my dissatisfaction with you in open court for the manner in which matters coming before you within the presumed secrecy of your grand-jury room had frequently been divulged to the public through the press. I was already acquainted with the fact that your sessions from time to time had been marked by considerable discord and inharmoniousness, and I began seriously to question if you could continue to function as a grand jury. But hasty action sometimes results in injustice, and I hoped that my admonition and a recess might clarify the situation. I regret to say that the situation has not been cleared up by one or more members of your body—probably by the same person or persons who have been responsible for these violations of the oath of secrecy from time to time.

The party is expected to arrive in Los Angeles this afternoon on the California Limited of the Santa Fe.

THE signal flags that flutter from the flagpole of the fleet of San Pedro are preaching the greatest sermon to be heard in America. In all probability the magnificent efficiency of this great squadron will never be put to any practical use. The lesson that the Navy teaches is that it is worth while to do something well merely for the sake of doing it well.

ed an investigation on which the future of the McPherson case, as far as this grand jury was concerned, would have been decided. The report of this committee was not given yesterday due to its discharge.

Impending of a new jury, Judge Keetch said, will be undertaken "whenever justice and the public welfare require." His detailed statement will be found in another column of the Times.

Among the committee reports to be placed in the hands of Dist. Atty. Keyes, it was said, is one which would have caused a sensation in this county had the grand jury been kept in office to continue this particular investigation. It was stated members of the former grand jury would demand a receipt of Mr. Keyes when this report is submitted to him.

The report contains the findings of months of investigation by private investigators. It was to have been read to the jurors yesterday morning for action.

Individual members of the grand jury, with but one exception, refused to issue statements. The one exception was Mrs. E. A. Holmes, who outspokenly blamed politics for the discharge of the jury. She was one of two women members of the jury, she said.

"It's all dirty politics. I didn't want to serve in the first place because I knew what it would be. You can't put half a dozen clean people in with a bunch of Bolsheviks and expect to make a go of it."

Mr. Keyes made a brief statement after he learned of Judge Keetch's action. He said:

"I have nothing to say about the matter. Judge Keetch alone is in charge of the grand jury and the matter of its administration rests entirely in his hands."

"IMPOSSIBLE TO ACT"

When asked specifically concerning future action as to the disappearance and destruction of important documentary evidence in the McPherson case bearing on the identity of "Miss X," who spent ten days at a Carmel bungalow with Kenneth G. Ormiston, formerly radio operator at Angelus Temple, Mr. Keyes said:

"The grand jury will be disbanded and beyond reaching of this case now."

It was pointed out yesterday, however, that when the fact the McPherson evidence—two grocery lists bearing the handwriting of "Miss X"—had disappeared from the grand jury room became known Judge Keetch seemed to the grand jurors had nothing to do with the matter of finding evidence and prosecuting the juror suspected of destroying the valuable papers. Investigation of the destruction and any action in prosecuting the suspected member rested solely with Mr. Keyes, Judge Keetch said at that time.

Photostatic copies of the two grocery lists, which were placed in Mr. Carter's hands prior to the destruction of the originals, were given to a handwriting expert during the vacation period for comparison with other handwriting.

The expert's report was to have been submitted yesterday and was said to have been placed in Mr. Carter's hands last evening. He declined to disclose the contents of the report.

The jurors also were to have voted on the advisability of bringing to Los Angeles as witnesses nine or more residents of Carmel who saw "Miss X" at the Carmel bungalow, several of whom said photos of Mrs. McPherson closely resembled Ormiston's woman companion.

That there was discussion among members of the grand jury became apparent during the McPherson case investigation. A number of members charged yesterday that there had been dissatisfaction almost from the outset of the term; that pressure had been brought to bear on a number of investigations, and that the jurors were told to "lay off" on an investigation, which is outlined in one of the reports to be given to Mr. Keyes.

CONSULTS OTHERS

In his statement to the jurors, Judge Keetch asserted "one or more members" had violated their oaths of secrecy and that the grand jury could no longer function and "inspire that confidence which its dignity and importance demand," because of "leaks" and internal discord.

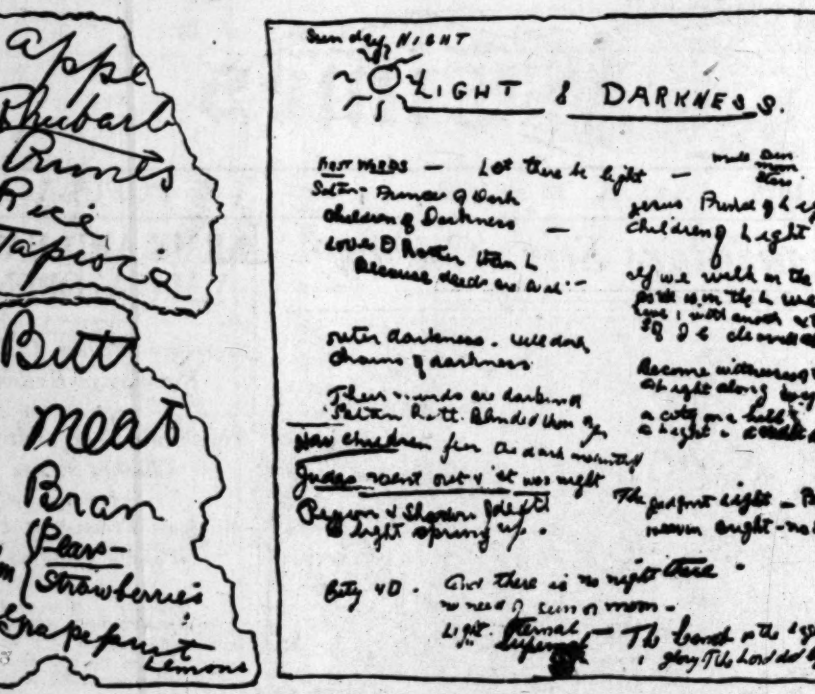

He referred to the disappearance of the McPherson case evidence, discussed other incidents of grand jury "leaks" and asserted he had taken the matter up with other members of the bench before reaching a decision.

Superior Judge Craig yesterday admitted Judge Keetch had talked to him concerning the matter to me and I know he was worried. However, he did not want to go about the situation and I did not advise him except to tell him to go ahead with whatever seemed right," the judge stated yesterday.

The jurors returned to the grand jury room, where they sat about 11:30 a. m. until noon, talking over the action of Judge Keetch. A majority was in favor of the action, several openly expressing their sentiments and asserting the action was "unjust."

Shortly afterward Dep. Dist. Atty. Richardson and likely entered the grand jury's chambers, when Mr. Carter turned over to them documents

Handwriting Storm Center in Jury Investigation

Three specimens of handwriting which played a large part in the grand jury deliberations on the McPherson disappearance case are reproduced above. The two smaller pieces at the top are smaller pieces of the handwriting of Kenneth G. Ormiston, who was an unidentified woman companion. The large exhibit is a sample of the writing of Mrs. McPherson. These three specimens were introduced as evidence before the grand jury and during the jury's consideration of the case. Photostatic copies, however, remained in possession of the authorities.

Neither Mr. Richardson nor Mr. Lively would comment on the jury's dismissal.

"I have nothing to say about it," Mrs. McPherson remarked when told of the discharge of the jury.

"We've said nothing and have nothing to say about it," Mrs. Kennedy added. R. B. Woolley, their attorney, likewise declined to comment on the situation.

PROTEST ANSWERED

ON TEMPLE LOUD SPEAKER

Following a complaint made by the Park Commission, Roland R. Woolley, attorney for Mrs. Anne Temple McPherson, appeared before the board yesterday to defend the right of the Temple to maintain radio loud speakers on the south side of the building facing Echo Park.

The board had complained that the loud speakers disturbed radio programs in Echo Park being broadcast by the park department.

President Griffith argued that a city ordinance forbids anyone addressing a gathering in a public park without a permit, while Woolley denied that this ordinance would apply to a religious program broadcast from within a church. The attorney contended on the other hand, that the park department's programs conflicted with the temple's services.

The matter will be investigated further and a second hearing held.

KANSAS TO HAVE PICNIC

Former residents of Kansas will have an all-day picnic and reunion at Elysian Grove Park Saturday, the 11th inst. County registers will be provided. A brief program of short talks and songs is being arranged.

A mammoth family album, to be the largest in the world and record the making of a special cabinet to preserve its prints, will form a permanent membership record of the Breakers Club, according to an announcement just made by Harry L. Lewis, president of the organization.

The result of this investigation I have laid before a number of my associates upon the bench and, after one week after I gave my opinion, I concurred in the conclusion, painfully and regretfully reached, that the internal conditions of this grand jury are such, and the reaction upon the public mind from the disclosures which have been made is such, that this jury as now constituted, can no longer function and inspire that confidence which its dignity and importance demand. In coming to this decision we do not intend to reflect upon those jurors and they are in the majority who have done their full duty and given unswervingly of their time and abilities. We are satisfied that under the law the jury, if discharged, must be discharged as a whole, and the jurors referred to are the innocent victims of conditions and circumstances created without their fault and beyond their control. It, therefore, appearing to this court that the best interests of the county so demand, this grand jury is hereby discharged and all matters, wherever necessary, now pending before it may be referred to another grand jury to be called and impaneled whenever justice and the public welfare require.

LEHRMAN TO FACE TRIAL IN OCTOBER

Picture Director Pleads Not Guilty to Charge of Annoying Girl

Henry Lehrman, motion-picture director, pleaded not guilty yesterday in Municipal Judge Stafford's court to a charge of annoying Miss Alla Sebastian, niece of Charles Sebastian, former Mayor of Los Angeles.

Lehrman was released on a $500 bail and ordered to appear in court October 29 for trial before a jury. The young woman stated that while waiting for a bus at Santa Monica Boulevard and Vine street Lehrman had followed her and annoyed her. She told police they followed the bus and again accosted her when she alighted at her destination. A Hollywood newspaper man, it was stated, came to her assistance.

Lehrman was reported to have been the fiancé of Virginia Rappe, for whose death Raoul Arbutnot stood trial and was acquitted in San Francisco.

QUEST ON FOR THREE IN ROBBERY OF STORE

Members of the police robbery squad last night arrested three men partly identified as the robbers who early in the morning broke into the Watson George's Shop at 1150 North Western avenue and stole 150 dresses and fifty coats. According to the proprietor, D. M. Steinberg, the goods were valued at $6000. Entrance was made by forcing the lock on the side door of the shop. Three men later were seen leaving away from the side entrance in a large closed car.

Officers Charge Liquor in Half Pints "Grew" in Yard Among Weeds

It was not stated whether Tom Bruno went out in the rear of his home at 130 West Sixty-sixth street to pick roses, but it is a matter of police record that he did find several police officers "blooming" where only weeds had bloomed before. And, as a result, he was arrested for violation of the liquor laws.

Some time later, they reported, Bruno walked out of the rear door of his house and leisurely made his way toward the weeds. The officers say they waited until Bruno had uncovered a hidden plant of ten pints of liquor and then they rose from their hiding place and took Bruno into custody.

A review of the industrial situation during the past year in Southern California was the subject of the Southern California Employers' Conference, which was held at the Sheraton Country Club, Burbank, on the 17th inst.

Programs for the event are being prepared and will be sent from Burbank, where the Burbank Chamber of Commerce and the Moreland Truck company particularly are arranging the meeting. W. A. Moreland, the company's Secretary, is the member and Manager of the Chamber of Commerce and the Moreland Truck company.

CLOSING WITH DINNER

Sessions will begin at 10 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. The conference is directed to go to the Chamber of Commerce, where transportation to the conference will be provided. The conference will last all day and will be a dinner for the evening at the Sheraton Country Club. The program will include speakers from outside of the State, it has been announced.

The conference, which was organized at Long Beach last April, formerly recognized that the open-shop principle, or American plan of industrial relations, has been one of the important factors in the progress of the Southland, and the conference was held to further the interests of the principle in the hope of continuing its prosperity and progress. Some of the industrial leaders, from Santa Barbara to San Diego, are members of the body. The last conference was in June.

Prosperity Attributed to Labor Principle

A review of the industrial situation
employment phase in Southern California during the last three months
will be held before the Southern California Employers' Conference, which is to hold its third quarterly meeting at the Sunset Country Club, Burbank, on the 17th inst.

Programs for the event are being prepared and will be sent from Burbank where the Burbank Chamber of Commerce and the Moreland Truck country club will be provided. The conference will last all day and will end with a dinner in the evening at which Mr. Moreland will preside.

The program will include speakers from outside of the State, it has been announced.
The conference, which was organized at Long Beach last April, formally recognizes that the open-shop principle, or American plan of industrial relations, has been one of the most important factors in the progress of the Southland, and the conference aims to further the interests of the principle in hope of continuing the prosperity and progress. Some of the industrial leaders from Santa Barbara to San Diego, are members of the body. Its last conference was in June.

SEVEN CHAIRMAN
A. A. Burton, prominent Long Beach business man, is chairman of the conference. On its executive committee are E. M. Haldebrand of the Pacific Pipe and Supply Company, San Angeles; George S. Parker, vice-

STATE CURB ON SEA RATE WAR URGED

Restoration of Former Ship Charges Asked of Railroad Commission

Restoration of steamship freight between here and San Francisco to the schedule in effect until November 1, last, and the adoption of a similar tariff, were urged here today at a hearing before Executive of the State Railroad Commission. The changes would restore both steamship lines and freight by automatically ending a war rate which was instituted through their joint agent, John McCorquodale, when the original application for the rate was made by the Los Angeles Steamship Company, McCor-quodale Company, Pacific Steamship Company and the White Fleet Company.

State managers and auditors testified that the rate competition was lost when the Los Angeles District entered the steamer Newport last November. Freight on the Newport were less than on the steamers. The Dispatch steamer's most cost of business was a loss of $65,000. It was testified that the rate was steadily losing money, to the testimony of the representatives of large business firms constantly using the route for express deliveries.

The hearing was continued until the 10th at San Francisco.

Action Filed to Bar Cooke for Recall Election

to keep the name of John Cooke off the ballot at the special election for the recall of Councilman of the First District, was taken
today in a suit filed by Maud
Cooke against City Clerk Dominguez. It is asserted Cooke will not be qualified to appear at the election because he is not eligible as a resident.

It was stated that on July 19, last,
Cooke filed for the recall of Randall and was elected to the office.
Cooke set the recall election for the 21st inst. A petition was filed to have Cooke's name removed from the ballot. The petition was granted and Cooke
was described as an elector
of the First Councilman District.
The suit was filed by Attorneys Lowe and W. Maxwell Burke, petitioners to Cooke, Greer, Kolts
and Randall.

PROBATION INQUIRY REVEALS TWO MATES

Dorothy Mills (Walton)

ANNULMENT SOUGHT TO SAVE WIFE

Second Husband Trying to Block Bigamy Charges
Against Spouse

Arthur Henry Walton yesterday brought suit for annulment of his marriage to Dorothy M. Walton, because, according to his attorney, Milton M. Golden, "he loves her and desires to stand by her."
The action states that the Waltons were married at Long Beach on May 29, 1926, and that the bride had a husband living.

Mrs. Walton, whose name then was Dorothy Mills, was arrested some time before her marriage to Walton on a check charge and was placed on probation. It was said yesterday. After the marriage, the story continues, she was arrested on a charge of violating her probation by getting married without obtaining the consent of probation officers.
The probation officers, while concerning themselves with this charge, learned it is said, that she had a husband living when she married Walton at Long Beach.
She is scheduled to appear in court
the 14th inst. on the charge of violating her probation by marrying Walton. Now Walton, according to his attorney, wants to get her marriage annulled to forestall the possibility of a bigamy charge being placed against his wife.

BROKERAGE FIRM SUES EX-CLIENTS

S. C. Lewis, Jacob Berman
and Fred A. Ballin Made Defendants in Action

Declaring their reputations have been injured by the actions of the defendants, James M. Welch and Ralph S. Welch, Los Angeles brokers, yesterday filed suit for $200,000 against S. C. Lewis, president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation; Jacob
Berman, also known as J. Bennett; and Fred A. Ballin. The action is the outgrowth of a suit instituted several months ago by the defendants accusing the two brokers of converting stock to their own use.

Yesterday's action states that some time prior to October 16, 1925, the defendants, who owned a great many shares of Julian Petroleum, ran the price of the stock up to $30 a share
"by a series of wash sales." At the time they had engaged the Welch firm to buy stock for them on margin, the complaints says. Later, according to the complaint, the defendants ceased to support the market and the stock on October 16 fell from $30 to $10 a share.

The brokers called for more margin,
they state, and failing to obtain it sold the stock. The defendants followed with the suit of several months ago. This action, yesterday's complaint charges, has injured the reputation of the Welch brothers. They ask $100,000 actual and $100,000
punitive damages.

The suit was filed by Attorneys Edmund H. and Howard R. Hinchaw.

UNIVERSITY LECTURE COURSES ANNOUNCED

The adolescent and the abnormal
are to be studied in two evening university lecture courses during the fall quarter of metropolitan college.
University of Southern California, according to the September schedule
just issued by Dr. E. W. MacQuarrie.
Dr. Ernest A. Raynor will head a Monday lecture group in psychology of the adolescent, meeting from 7 to 9:30 p.m. for twelve weeks, as well as a Tuesday evening discussion course in psychology of the abnormal, also to meet once a week for twelve consecutive meetings from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Classes will be held in the Transportation Building, Seventh and Community streets.

COMMUNITY CHEST NEEDS 15,000 AIDES

With an area greater than the combined areas of Philadelphia, San Francisco, Cleveland and Oakland,
the Los Angeles Community Chest
will need 15,000 workers for its forthcoming appeal for funds, according to Joseph Scott, chairman. The third annual appeal for funds is scheduled for November 9 to 25. The Los Angeles Chest is now the biggest in the United States in point of territory served. This is true because of the number of its agency members, 143 in all, and its vast territory, which covers an area of 500 square miles,
Scott declares.

RATHER a surprise, isn't it, to have these new Felice hats get here just before school opening? Bullock's hoped they would arrive at the same time as the Felice dresses, but they were two days late. However, they are here now ready for your choosing before school opening. A larger group than usual, but the styles are so clever, every one of these Collegienne hats should be gone soon. Come as early as you can.

Notice how high the crowns are this season. It has been a long time since Collegienne hats were so sophisticated. A touch of metallic. Two-toned ribbon. Burnt felt. These are just three of the fashion notes. Velours, felts and velvets are included in the Navy Dedicates New $750,000 Y. M. C. A. Building at San Pedro

Ten Thousand Men From the Battle Fleet at Anchor in Los Angeles Harbor, soldiers from Fort MacArthur and citizens of the port area yesterday participated in the dedication services of the new $750,000 Y. M. C. A. building at San Pedro at which Secretary of the Navy Wilbur was the principal speaker and eight admirals of the United States navy were present. Photo at left shows Secretary Wilbur addressing the throng; middle, bluejackets at rest after march of impressive parade; right, the new Y. M. C. A. building. (Times and P. & A. photos.)

Taking On a Little Refreshment, Lord Louis Mountbatten, who was recently "blackballed" at the Royal Yacht Club, is caught above between chukkers at a polo match at Paris Plage, Deauville. Lord Louis doesn't appear to be seriously affected by the snub. (P. & A. photo.)

Musical History Will be Made Tonight at the Hollywood Bowl when twenty-four musicians at as many grand pianos, each playing a different orchestration, will offer a concert under the direction of Adolf Tandler. It will be the first time that a piano ensemble has ever attempted a concert with separate orchestrations. Photo shows rehearsal.

The Great Masonry Entrance to Big Pine Park, Los Angeles county's recreation reserve on the Lone Pine Canyon road, will be dedicated in honor of William D. Mason, veteran county mechanical superintendent, on Labor Day. The arch is located at the highest elevation on the road.

Rapid Growth of Southern California will be reflected in Hawaii, in the opinion of Charles White, manager of the Jans Investment Company, who returned yesterday from the islands on the City of Los Angeles. Photo shows Mr. and Mrs. White at a social gathering.

Lion Hunting
for Girl's Sake
Managing Director Frank L. Newman offers two attractions at the Metropolitan Theater for the week beginning today. One is Douglas MacLean in "Hold That Lion," a Paramount picture inaugurating Paramount week.
The other is the return from the East of Eddie Peabody, who is bringing with him some of the latest tunes from Broadway musical successes. Peabody will be seen in "Happy-Go-Lucky," a Jack Partington production.
"Hold That Lion" deals with Jimmie Hastings, a young New York broker who falls in love with a girl he does not know. With Dick Warren, a friend, he trails her all over the world and at last gets acquainted in South Africa, where she is preparing to go on a lion hunt with her father. She tells Hastings they are after "cats," and he declares he is a prize "catcher of cats." Not until he sees out into the jungle does he realize that they are after lions.
